Bartz-Altadonna Community Health Center is a state-licensed clinic that provides comprehensive primary medical care, including women's care for low-income, uninsured, underinsured and homeless persons. We also accept all insurance plans (public and private) and participate in Los Angeles County's Public Private Partnership, FamPac and CHDP.

We also provide compassionate trauma-informed state-of-the-art specialty medical care and supportive services for HIV and Hepatitis C (HCV) and to those co-infected with HIV and HCV.

The mission of the Bartz-Altadonna Community Health Center is to provide, patient-centered, high-quality, trauma-informed health and wellness care to residents of the Antelope Valley regardless of ability to pay.
